

Panopto: Podcasting and RSS Feeds

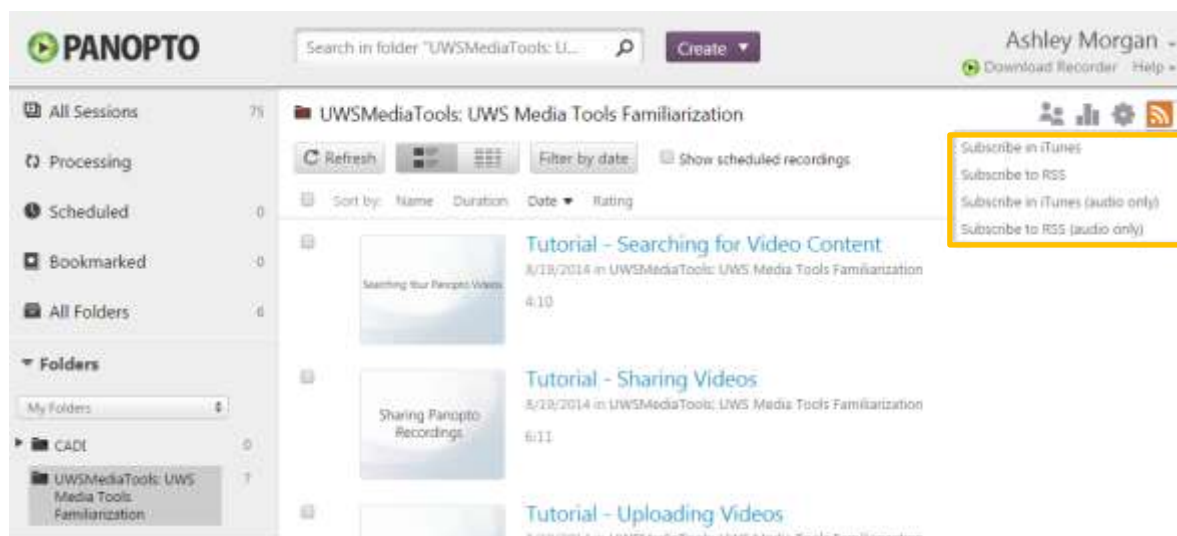

Panopto makes MP3 and MP4 versions of every recording available through podcasts and RSS feeds. By subscribing to the feed, the podcast from each new recording in a folder will automatically be downloaded. The downloaded content can then be listened to or viewed using any device capable of playing back MP3/MP4 files.

*Note: Currently podcasting and RSS feeds will not work in Google Chrome. The browser does not natively support RSS feeds. We currently recommend using Firefox for accessing Panopto and webCampus.

1. To download Audio/Video podcast, go to <https://uws.hosted.panopto.com/> and click Sign In. You will be directed to the webCampus login page to insert your username and password.
2. Click "Log In" (If Active Directory is enabled, please choose the appropriate domain, from the "Log In Using" drop down box).
3. Click on All Folders and Select the folder from which you would like to download podcasts.

4. Click the Subscribe icon in the upper right hand corner. These links allow you to subscribe to the folder feed in different ways.

Panopto: Podcasting and RSS Feeds

Subscribe in iTunes or Subscribe in iTunes (audio only) - Sends the video (or audio podcast) RSS feed to iTunes.

Subscribe to RSS or Subscribe to RSS (audio only) - Allows you to subscribe to the RSS feed or download the video (or audio) podcasts directly. You may need to download an RSS feed reader (i.e., Feedly, or in Microsoft Outlook, as in example below).
